

Style Challenge 4

Kenton Clarkson to the Rescue

As soon as their spacecraft lands on the planet Klimpton Kenton Clarkson is escorted to the High Commander's Headquarters. On the journey Kenton has been fully briefed about the situation that threatens to destroy Klimpton and he is ready to take charge of the clean up job. Kenton is convinced that the problem is pollution. If the aliens simply recycle and stop wasting energy they will all be saved!

TASK 1:

First write Kenton's informal explanation to the aliens about what they need to do to save their planet.

- Think very carefully about the words and phrases that are appropriate.

Example:

Well I think that to sort out this mess on Klimpton you all need to recycle stuff.

TASK 2:

Now rewrite a more formal version of this explanation that can be issued to all the inhabitants of Klimpton.

- Think very carefully about the words and phrases that are appropriate.

Example:

I believe recycling waste materials could solve the answer to the problem that is being experienced on Klimpton.
